Please turn in the bluebook containing your answer to the essay question, along with this copy of the exam. You must turn in both portions of the exam in order to pass this course. Don't forget to put your student identifier on your bluebook as well.
- 5. SPACE LIMITATIONS:

- 8. Questions on this exam will inevitably have fewer facts than would be optimal in predicting legal rights. When more information is required, explicitly state your assumptions and indicate why such assumptions are necessary but do not assume any fact inconsistent with those stated in the fact situation given. If the question asks you to suggest additional facts to improve the quality of your prediction, please be comprehensive and imaginative.
- 9. The suggested time for each question is noted. The suggested times total 180 MINUTES. The suggested times reflect the relative weight that will be assigned to each question.

GOOD LUCK AND BUDGET YOUR TIME!

Essay question (50 minutes) Please answer this question in a bluebook.

Donna Karan, who recently moved to New Mexico, had a tough year this year and is considering what to do about her poor financial condition. This past year she was sued by Calvin Klein for stealing his designs, and despite very little law in his favor, Calvin has obtained a judgment against Donna in the amount of $1,000,000. Donna's lawyer in the case filed a notice of appeal within the filing deadline, but is not going to do much more work on the case unless and until Donna gives her a bigger retainer.

Earlier this year, a fashion fan got too close to Donna and Donna slugged him, resulting in a $80,000 judgment which she did not appeal. She owes back taxes in the amount of $50,000. Donna also owes $50,000 in fashion school student loans and $20,000 in past due alimony to her ex-husband. In addition to these amounts, she owes about $60,000 to suppliers, credit card companies, the landlord of her place of business, and phone and utility companies. Donna lives in a home worth $800,000, with a $700,000 mortgage on it.

Other than the house, Donna doesn't have many assets. She just has her car (described below), two mixed breed dogs and six closets full of beautiful clothes, probably worth around $30,000 on the second-hand market. Donna also has scraped together about $20,000 in cash, which she thought could be a retainer for a bankruptcy lawyer, a lawyer to handle the Calvin Klein appeal, or both.

Donna is six months' behind on her mortgage payment, which runs $6,000 per month. She's pretty much current on her car payment of $500 per month. Her car is an eight-year old Range Rover worth $10,000, on which she owes $15,000. Donna thinks her income will be something like $14,000 per month during the next several years, but her income has gone up and down so much that she says this is hard to predict.

Explain Donna's options under Chapters 7 and 13. Is she eligible for each of these types of bankruptcy? Which would be better for her? Which debts are dischargeable under each Chapter? Which assets can she keep in each situation, and if she files under Chapter 13, what must her plan provide with respect to the various creditor claims? Can she propose a confirmable Chapter 13 plan? What should she do with the $20,000 in cash?

In a sentence or two (please do not overemphasize this part of the question), what do you think filing a petition under Chapter 11 would do for Donna, if anything?

1. (15 min.) You are the bankruptcy trustee in Billy Carter's bankruptcy. Billy was one successful in his sole proprietorship peanut farm, but has now fallen on hard times. You have $35,000 to distribute and the following claims: $30,000 in garden-variety general unsecured debt, $3,000 in income taxes per year for the past five years, for a total of $15,000, a $20,000 judgment in favor of the debtor's ex-wife (it is unclear what this is for so figure the calculations based on both reasonable assumptions), $3,000 in trustees fees so figure the calculations based on both reasonable assumptions), $3,000 in trustees fees and auctioneer's costs, $2,000 in claims to farmers for grain products, $2,000 in postpetition property taxes due for the unencumbered assets of the estate, $2,000 for debtor counsel's bankruptcy fees, and $6,000 due to his hired hand for her work done during the month preceding the filing. Who gets what and in what order, making reference to the appropriate Code Sections?

Since Deion's credit had been spotty, Emmitt took back a perfected security interest in the ring. Deion agreed to pay the $20,000 with interest over five years. Two years into the deal, however, Deion has yet to make a single payment, making Emmitt so mad that it is interfering with his game. Deion has recently come to you about his failing financial condition. He'd like to file for bankruptcy, and in addition to his other issues, he is particularly interested in knowing whether he can keep the ring, which he recently had appraised for $8,000. Explain his options under both Chapter 7 and Chapter 13. If this were the only issue in the case, which Chapter would work better for him?

9. (10 min.) When Gary Johnson announced his policy on the legalization of drugs, many political supporters pulled the plug on funds to Johnson. Unfortunately, he ended up over his head in unexplained debts to unknown persons for things he'd rather not discuss. He has decided to file for Chapter 7. His assets include $40,000 in equity in the house he owns with his wife, $20,000 in books, computer equipment, business assets and other tools of trade, $4,000 worth of equity in a car, two horses, two dogs, and a $100,000 pension. Should he elect to use the New Mexico exemptions or the Federal exemptions and what will he lose under each?
10. (5 min.) A guy who operates a cash business on the corner of Central and Zuni says Johnson owes him $10,000 for a series of corner transactions. Is this debt dischargeable in either a Chapter 7 or a Chapter 13?

What advice do you have for Mac, based on the specific provisions of the Bankruptcy Code?
